

- d) Are you coming to the party?

10. Which of the following is an imperative sentence with an implied subject (you)?

- a) She asked me to help her.
- b) Close the window.
- c) Can you tell me the time?
- d) I want some water.

11. Which of the following sentences is an example of an exclamatory sentence?

- a) I am so tired!
- b) How much does this cost?
- c) Can you help me with this?
- d) The cake is on the table.

12. Which punctuation mark is used at the end of an exclamatory sentence?

- a) Period
- b) Question mark
- c) Exclamation mark
- d) Comma

13. Which of the following expresses sudden or strong feeling?

- a) How cold it is outside!
- b) We went to the store yesterday.
- c) She left for the airport this morning.
- d) Do you want to join us?

Subjective Questions:

- 1. Define a declarative sentence and provide two examples, one positive and one negative.
- 2. Explain how a declarative sentence can be simple, compound, or complex. Provide an example of each.
- 3. What are the key characteristics of a declarative sentence? Why is this type of sentence the most common in written composition?
- 4. What is the primary function of an interrogative sentence? Write two examples of interrogative sentences, one starting with a "wh-" question word and the other as a yes/no question.
- 5. Describe how the structure of an interrogative sentence differs from that of a declarative sentence.
- 6. Give an example of a compound interrogative sentence, and explain how it is formed.
- 7. What is the purpose of an imperative sentence? Provide two examples: one that is a command and one that is a request.
- 8. Explain the difference between a command and a request in an imperative sentence. Write two sentences, one with a command and one with a request.
- 9. Why are subjects often implied rather than stated in imperative sentences? Give examples of imperative sentences with and without an explicitly stated subject.
- 10. Explain the function of an exclamatory sentence. How does it express emotions differently from declarative sentences? Provide an example.

How to Write a Composition

A Guide to Effective Writing

Definition of Composition

- What is a Composition?
- A composition is a piece of writing on a specific topic where ideas are structured and developed systematically.
- It can be an essay, narrative, report, or any form of structured writing.